

2009 Kamm's Corners Farmers Market Free Perennial

✿ Exchange ✿

June 14th 10 a.m. - 12 p.m.

- ✿ Dig and divide your plants, and place them into pots. Pots needn't be fancy - milk cartons, cottage cheese containers and yogurt containers work well. Water them well and bring them along.
- ✿ If you have a picture of the plant, it's a handy thing for other gardeners. A perennial reference book will be available to help with identification when you arrive.
- ✿ If you're a new gardener and have nothing to trade, don't be discouraged. Come on down! Gardeners are generous folks. You could go home with a trunk full of new plants!
- ✿ If you're a veteran gardener, be generous with newbies. Give them a few plants and your advice - both are sure to be appreciated.
- ✿ This is a free exchange. Please don't bring plants to sell. It won't be allowed.

What: Perennial Exchange at the Kamm's Corners Farmers Market
When: Sunday June 14th 10 a.m. - 12 p.m.
Where: W. 168th near Lorain in the municipal parking lot
Additional Info: Jenny Burger Market Manager 216-526-3803
kcfarmersmarket@gmail.com